Ukraine - Russia interstate conflict [2022-]

The Russo-Ukrainian conflict, which began in 2014, escalated in February 2022 with the initiation of a full-scale invasion by Russia against Ukraine. The conflict stems from the ousting of pro-Russian Ukrainian President Viktor Yanukovych and the subsequent pro-Russian unrest in the eastern and southern regions of Ukraine, as well as Russia's annexation of Crimea. The war in Donbas between Ukraine and Russian proxies remained a violent and static conflict, despite the signing of the Minsk II agreements in 2015 aimed at resolving the conflict.
In the lead up to the invasion, Russia had increased its military presence near its border with Ukraine, which prompted international criticism. On February 21, 2022, Russia officially recognized the Donetsk People's Republic and the Luhansk People's Republic as independent states. Three days later, Russian President Vladimir Putin announced a "special military operation" in Ukraine, leading to the initiation of the full-scale invasion. The invasion resulted in widespread international sanctions, condemnation, and significant human and economic losses, including a major refugee crisis and tens of thousands of casualties.
