6.1.11 CSOs: one (1)

Page 25, 6.2 The Board may draw a team of local and international experts to provide organized experts' opinion and best practises on the subject. The Board shall report to TGoNU and JMEC.

6.3 The SDSR shall undertake a comprehensive assessment of the requirements of NDFSS within one hundred and twenty (120) days from the signing of this Agreement to inform the formulation of the country's Defense and Security policies that shall subsequently lead to the overall Security Sector Transformation (SST) process, including the future command, function, size, composition and budget of South Sudan's national army and security forces, and DDR requirements.

6.4 The Board shall examine within one hundred and fifty (150) days of this Agreement, the military and non-military security challenges that affects the Republic of South Sudan (internally and externally), clarify the responsibilities of different bodies and agencies in responding to these security challenges including the management and oversight of the security sector; identify the mission, vision, specific role of the national army, and outline the programme and doctrine for its unification and modernization.

6.5 The SDSR Board shall provide the Roadmap for the Security Sector Transformation (SST), which outlines the details for the unification of the army, and security forces, Disarmament, Demobilization and Re-integration and the Security Sector Reform process. The Roadmap shall contribute to the amendment of Defence and Security-related legislations such as, National Security Services, NDFSS, and Police Service Acts. The list of areas for reform identified by the Parties in this Agreement shall include but not limited to: Defence, Police, Prison Service, Wildlife Service, Fire Service, National Security Service, Private Security Organizations and any other institutions that play a role in managing and overseeing the design and implementation, such as Ministries, Parliament, Human Rights Commission and Civil Society Organizations, the De-Mining Authority, Disarmament, Demobilization and Reintegration Commission, War Disabled, Widows and Orphans Commission, War Veterans Commission, Bureau for Community Security and Small Arms Control.

6.6 The SDSR process shall be comprehensive, inclusive, and transparent and underpinned by the principles and strategies of national interests in promoting and defending the sovereignty and dignity of the country and its people. The SDSR shall be conducted in four (4) Stages:

Stage 1 (complete after one hundred twenty (120) days):

- a. Firstly, a strategic security assessment that examines the military and non-military security challenges that affects the Republic of South Sudan currently and in the future, including an analysis of all state, state-aligned and non-state, or other independent security actors and armed groups (drawing on the information provided by forces in cantonment);
- b. Secondly, a security policy framework, clarifying the responsibilities of different bodies and agencies in responding to these security challenges, including the management and oversight of the security sector;
- c. Thirdly, a revised defence policy, identifying the specific role and missions of the national army and outlining a vision for its unification and modernization.

Stage 2 (complete after one hundred and fifty (150) days);

- a. An analysis of the operational capabilities that NDFSS / security forces shall require to meet the challenges identified in Stage 1, and the supporting systems and structures that are needed to ensure effective utilization of these capabilities.
- b. The key output should be range of strategic models, specifying the level of human resources, equipment, and training needed to develop the military to respond to defence and security priorities, and the associated financial implications.

Stage 3 (executive approval after one hundred and eighty (180) days):

- a. The findings of Stage 2 are submitted to the political leadership for evaluation.
- b. Their task is to decide which model, or combination of models, best meets the needs of the nation, along with the level of expenditure required.
- c. The findings of the review should then be published in a white paper on Defence and Security and a Security Sector Transformation (SST) Roadmap, approved firstly by the Council of Ministers and then by the Transitional National Legislative Assembly.

Stage 4 (implementation): The SST Roadmap provides the details for the unification of the army and security forces,

- a. DDR and the SSR process.
- b. The SST Roadmap provides details that will contribute to the amendment of defence and security related legislation such as, National Security Services, NDFSS, and Police Service Acts.
- c. In addition, the Ministers of Defence and Veterans' Affairs, National Security, and Interior produce annual plans to turn the Republic of South Sudan's vision of defence and security into practical, costed programs.

d. The TGoNU shall, through the SST roadmap, and within eighteen (18) months including the Pre-Transitional Period focus on the re-unification and training of the NDFSS / security forces.

7. Unification of Forces

7.1 Upon signing of this Agreement the Parties shall establish the shared Unified Command of the NDFSS immediately and its complete unification shall be completed within eighteen (18) months. The process of unification shall be overseen and monitored by the National Architecture described in Section 3.

7.3 The Disarmament, Demobilization and Re-Integration of special needs cases shall be undertaken in parallel with the re-unification processes while the full process of DDR for ineligible candidates or residual forces as defined by the result of SDSR shall be conducted after the re-unification is completed.

7.3 In coordination with UN and other structures and institutions established by law and this Agreement, military and security forces shall prepare for Elections-related security tasks, in addition to routine responsibilities at least six (6) months before the end of the Transitional period.

6. Strategic Defence and Security Review (SDSR)

6.6 The SDSR process shall be comprehensive, inclusive, and transparent and underpinned by the principles and strategies of national interests in promoting and defending the sovereignty and dignity of the country and its people. The SDSR shall be conducted in four (4) Stages:

Stage 1 (complete after one hundred twenty (120) days):

- a. Firstly, a strategic security assessment that examines the military and non-military security challenges that affects the Republic of South Sudan currently and in the future, including an analysis of all state, state-aligned and non-state, or other independent security actors and armed groups (drawing on the information provided by forces in cantonment);
- b. Secondly, a security policy framework, clarifying the responsibilities of different bodies and agencies in responding to these security challenges, including the management and oversight of the security sector;
- c. Thirdly, a revised defence policy, identifying the specific role and missions of the national army and outlining a vision for its unification and modernization.

Stage 2 (complete after one hundred and fifty (150) days);

- a. An analysis of the operational capabilities that NDFSS / security forces shall require to meet the challenges identified in Stage 1, and the supporting systems and structures that are needed to ensure effective utilization of these capabilities.

b. The key output should be range of strategic models, specifying the level of human resources, equipment, and training needed to develop the military to respond to defence and security priorities, and the associated financial implications.

Stage 3 (executive approval after one hundred and eighty (180) days):

a. The findings of Stage 2 are submitted to the political leadership for evaluation.

b. Their task is to decide which model, or combination of models, best meets the needs of the nation, along with the level of expenditure required.

c. The findings of the review should then be published in a white paper on Defence and Security and a Security Sector Transformation (SST) Roadmap, approved firstly by the Council of Ministers and then by the Transitional National Legislative Assembly.

Stage 4 (implementation): The SST Roadmap provides the details for the unification of the army and security forces,

a. DDR and the SSR process.

b. The SST Roadmap provides details that will contribute to the amendment of defence and security related legislation such as, National Security Services, NDFSS, and Police Service Acts.

c. In addition, the Ministers of Defence and Veterans' Affairs, National Security, and Interior produce annual plans to turn the Republic of South Sudan's vision of defence and security into practical, costed programs.

d. The TGoNU shall, through the SST roadmap, and within eighteen (18) months including the Pre-Transitional Period focus on the re-unification and training of the NDFSS / security forces.

7. Unification of Forces

7.1 Upon signing of this Agreement the Parties shall establish the shared Unified Command of the NDFSS immediately and its complete unification shall be completed within eighteen (18) months. The process of unification shall be overseen and monitored by the National Architecture described in Section 3.

7.3 The Disarmament, Demobilization and Re-Integration of special needs cases shall be undertaken in parallel with the re-unification processes while the full process of DDR for ineligible candidates or residual forces as defined by the result of SDSR shall be conducted after the re-unification is completed.

7.3 In coordination with UN and other structures and institutions established by law and this Agreement, military and security forces shall prepare for Elections-related security tasks, in addition to routine responsibilities at least six (6) months before the end of the Transitional period.

In particular, the CTRH shall inquire into the circumstances, surrounding the aforementioned and any other connected or incidental matters. Such inquiry shall investigate, document and report on the course and cause conflict and identify or review cut-off timeframes for the operations of the CTRH, as may be determined by legislation, this Agreement or both. In that regard, the CTRH shall recommend processes for the full enjoyment by victims of the right to remedy, including by suggesting measures for reparations and compensation.

2.2.2. Without prejudice to its Mandate, the Functions of the CTRH are to:

2.2.2.1. adopt, in the implementation of its mandate, best practices for promoting truth, reconciliation and healing from Africa and elsewhere;

2.2.2.2. establish an accurate and impartial historical record of human rights violations, breaches of the rule of law and excessive abuses of power, committed by State and non-state actors from the date of signing of this Agreement to July 2005;

2.2.2.3. receive applications from alleged victims, identify and determine their right to remedy;

2.2.2.4. identify perpetrators of violations and crimes proscribed in this agreement;

2.2.2.5. recommend guidelines, to be endorsed by the TNA, for determining the type and size of compensation and reparation for victims, ;

2.2.2.6. record the experiences of victims, including but not limited to women and girls;

2.2.2.7. investigate the causes of conflicts and their circumstances and make recommendations regarding possible ways of preventing recurrence;

2.2.2.8. develop detailed recommendations for legal and institutional reforms to ensure non-repetition of human rights abuses and violations, breaches of the rule of law and excessive use of power;

2.2.2.9. lead efforts to facilitate local and national reconciliation and healing.

2.2.2.10. where appropriate, supervise proceeding of traditional dispute resolution, reconciliation, and healing mechanisms. In this regard, and without prejudice to traditional justice mechanisms, develop standard operating procedures for the functioning of the latter, in accordance with the principles of natural justice.

2.2.2.11. establish a secretariat that shall function as the administrative arm of the Commission and prepare guidelines and procedures for its proper functioning.

2.2.3. The CTRH shall issue quarterly progress reports updating the TGoNU on its progress in meeting its objectives. The CTRH shall make sustained efforts to publicly and regularly inform and involve the people of South Sudan in all of its tasks and activities and be responsible for carrying out public education, awareness-raising and civic engagement activities to inform the public, in particular with youth and women, about the Commission's work, and solicit continuous feedback.

2.2.4. The CTRH shall issue a final, public report at the conclusion of its mandate three months before the end of the Transition that shall include the observations and findings of its documentation activities and its recommendations for peace, reconciliation and healing in South Sudan.

2.3. Personnel and Appointment Procedures:

2.3.1. Commissioners, investigators and staff of the CTRH shall be persons of high moral character, impartiality and integrity. They shall be independent in the performance of their functions and shall not accept or seek instructions from any third party.

2.3.2. The CTRH shall be composed of seven (7) Commissioners, four (4) of whom shall be South Sudanese nationals, including two (2) women. The remaining three (3) Commissioners shall be from other African countries, of whom at least one (1) shall be a woman.
