Untitled Agreement [between Suqur al-Sham Brigades and Islamic State in Iraq and the Levant (ISIS)]

God says: “The believers are but brothers, so make settlement between your brothers [49:10].”

Following this reasoning, a peace agreement was made, and this is its beginning:

We, the Suqour al-Sham Brigades and its leader Abu ‘Isa al-Sheikh, and the Islamic State of Iraq and the Levant and its leader Abu Bakr al-Baghdadi agreed to:

Stop the fighting between them immediately and each party will not attack the other in any way. No party, after signing this agreement, has the right to support any other faction in the Levant that fights in the path of God.

Moreover, if any of the parties attack the other one, a joint court of Sharia will be established between them to settle any disputes.
